

PHOTOGRAPH

Open the camera app on your phone

Take a picture of something of great significance

Keep that picture opened on the screen of your first phone

Find someone else and ask them to take a picture of something of great significance, this time with the previous phone positioned in either one of the corners of the camera frame of the current phone

Repeat the steps above until there is no significance left in the surrounding environment